is an alarming increase in the use of

REPLY TO MR. DICKINSON'S LETTER OF PRESENTATION

Prof. Bolton, in Behalf of A. & M. College, Expresses Thanks for Wireless Station and Endowment of Chair in Wireless Telegraphy.

College Station, Tex., May 18, 1911.
Mr. J. B. Dickinson, care Texas Wireless Telegraph & Telephone Company, San Antonio, Tex.

Dear Sir—I have before me your letter of this date to President Milner stating that you are presenting the college with a fully equipped wireless telegraph station ready for operation.
By direction of President Milner, and in the name of the college, I wish to thank you most heartily for this generous gift, and to assure you of our desire to use this equipment in such a way that the young men of the state may reap the greatest possible benefit from it. We realize that the use of wireless telegraphy is rapidly increasing and that there is a demand for young men trained as engineers and operators who can fill positions as they are constantly being created.
With this complete equipment we will expect to give a good course in wireless telegraphy and be able to turn out young men trained to fill these positions.

With reference to your kind offer to provide an endowment to establish this course, I believe the college will be willing to provide facilities for teaching the work, but I believe you can be of much assistance to us in keeping us informed on the latest improvements in the art, and we will appreciate anything you may do for us along this line.

Thanking you again for your generous donation, and assuring you of our appreciation of your good wishes for the future of the college, I am Yours very truly,

(Signed) F. C. BOLTON,
Professor of Electrical Engineering.

GRAND COUNCIL OF BRITISH EMPIRE

Third Quadrennial Conference Opened Under Chairmanship of Prime Minister Asquith.

[By Associated Press.]

London, May 23.—The imperial conference, which has now practically assumed the functions of a grand council of the British empire, opened the third series of its quadrennial deliberations today under the chairmanship of Premier Asquith.

TO CONSIDER PEACE PACT

London, May 23.—If John Bull's fifth imperial conference lives up to what is expected of it, the great gathering inaugurated so auspiciously will take rank as the most momentous peace meeting ever held. Delegates from every part of that vast empire on which the sun never sets congregated today at the official opening of the conference.

World peace is the one absorbing topic of the day in John Bull's realm, and the whole question will be taken up in principle during the conference.
Canada, represented by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Dominion premier, and other able statesmen, will strongly support the Anglo-American peace pact which will, in the language of Mr. Asquith, "put an end once for all to the unthinkable possibilities of fratricidal strife."

New Zealand offers a proposal for an imperial council with representatives in all parts of the empire and a secretary of imperial affairs, to be substituted for the present secretary of state for the colonies. It is also suggested that the present high commissioners in London be raised to the status of ambassadors.

Australia raises the question of the Declaration of London, and expresses regret that the colonies were not consulted in opposing the provisions affecting food supplies and the destruction of neutral vessels.

The imperial conference grows out of the conference of colonial premiers, the first of which was held in 1887, during Queen Victoria's jubilee.
